FIFTY-NINTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION

Oil, Tempera on panel, and Sculpture

SAN FRANCISCO ART ASSOCIATION

April fifth through May seventh, 1939

SAN FRANCISCO MUSEUM OF ART

War Memorial · Civic Center

FOREWORD

THE opening of the San Francisco Art Association Annual is occasion each year for endless local comment and question on contemporary painting and sculpture in general, and on the problem of selecting from hundreds of submitted works a worthy representation. This year the total number of selected works is smaller than for some years, though the volume of sculpture is greater than for the past two years. One can seek reasons. Perhaps the selection of material for two Exposition exhibitions, in New York and here, depleted somewhat the number of painting entries of first quality. Probably the sculptors who have for the past two years been so deeply engaged by decorative statuary for the Exposition have once more time to give to exhibition sculpture. At any rate the exhibition as a whole is a lively one with recognizable standards of quality. It is the considered choice of artist jurors, elected by fellow artists, sincerely determined to make a worthy selection.

The Museum takes pleasure in presenting their exhibition for the appreciation and enjoyment of the Bay Region public.

GRACE L. MCCANN MORLEY.
